3. ENTITIES AFFECTED

The Policy applies to all Entities belonging to BOC.

All entities must, as a minimum, meet the requirements set out in this Policy. In any country where the requirements of applicable law(s), directives or practices establish a higher standard, Entities must meet those standards. In the case where current local laws conflict with this policy, the respective local Compliance/AML Unit must liaise with the AMLCO of the parent company of the Group, so as to resolve the issue.

All BOC subsidiaries are expected to enact in their own internal systems equivalent procedures.

4. POLICY

4.1 Customer Acceptance Principles

The evaluation of a customer's risk is fundamental to the Bank's effort to prevent and suppress money laundering, terrorist financing and other illegal activities.

The Bank reserves its right to deny the establishment of any business relationship with a person (physical and/or legal) assessed to fall within the groups of not accepted customers described below or indeed if for any reason the Bank is uncomfortable with the establishment of a business relationship.

The Bank of Cyprus Customer Acceptance Policy ("CAP") is designed to ensure that the Bank adequately assesses prospective and existing customers from an AML/CTF perspective in order to ensure that it establishes and maintains relationships with customers with no ML/TF relationships or transactions. In parallel, the CAP covers areas outside the Bank's risk appetite, where a business relationship cannot be accepted.

BOC and its subsidiaries transact only with customers meeting minimum risk assessment criteria and without significant failure, as described below.

In the case of vendors, the same principles apply.

4.2 Customer Risk Assessment Scorecard

To this extent, the Bank has adopted the use of a scorecard to determine the risk level of prospect and current customers. The scorecard uses various criteria such as:

- Geography Risk Factors: Scoring is allocated based on the geographical risks associated with each customer. If the entity is an individual, then s/he will be scored for both his/her ID/Passport Country and his/her Country of Residence. In the case of a legal entity, several factors are considered, including the legal entity's Country of Registration and Country of Economic Activity, as well as the Country of Residence and the Country of ID/Passport of all its Ultimate Beneficial Owners, Shareholders, Directors, and Signatories.
- Destination / Origin of Wire Transfers: Scoring is allocated based on the geographical distribution of the customer's wire transfer activity.
- Transactional Risk Factors: Scoring is allocated based on the total turnover (Debit or Credit) of the customer.
- Customer Risk Factors: Scoring is allocated based on certain characteristics associated with the customer. In the case of individuals, scoring is allocated in the case the customer is a PEP/PEP related, if s/he is associated with Negative Media, based on the length of his/her relationship with the Bank, or if s/he is a sole proprietor with heavy cash business. In the case of legal entities, scoring is allocated in the case the legal entity is associated with a PEP, in the case the legal entity is associated with Negative Media, in the absence of audited accounts, in the case the legal entity is part of a complex structure, if nominee shareholders are included in the legal entity's structure, or in the case the business is associated with heavy cash turnover.

- Product Risk: Scoring is allocated based on the type of products the customer has. Certain products such as investment portfolios, respondent accounts carry a higher risk score.
- Distribution Channel Risk: Scoring is allocated based on the method of on boarding the customer. Higher score is attributed if the customer is a distance customer.
- Behavior Risk Factors: Scoring is attributed based on several behavioral aspects of the customer such as the need to monitor his/her transactions, number of inquiries received from Correspondent Banks for the customer, or whether there is a significant deviation between the customer's established declared turnover in his/her bank accounts, compared to the actual.
- Employment Type: The customer's employment type is considered for the scoring.
- Industry Factors: The industry in which the customer is involved is considered for the scoring.
- Legal form: If the customer is a legal entity or a legal arrangement, the type of the legal entity / arrangement is considered for the scoring.

The above criteria are used in combination, in order to determine the risk level of each customer. Customers, based on the score reached by their characteristics, can be categorized as:

- Not Accepted (see Appendix 1)
- Critical Risk / High Risk (see Appendix 2)
- Significant Risk
- Moderate Risk
- Low Risk

Depending on each risk category, different due diligence measures are required. Simplified due diligence measures are required for Low-Risk customers, Normal due diligence measures are required for Moderate Risk customers and Enhanced Due Diligence measures are required for Significant and Critical/High Risk customers. Higher charges / rates may apply to customers for whom Enhanced Due Diligence measures are applied.

4.3 List of conditions under which a business relationship with an existing client must be terminated

The Bank may terminate a business relationship with an existing customer if the following conditions apply:

1. If he was initially introduced by an approved professional intermediary and a subsequent meeting did not take place with Bank staff.
2. If, during the review / customer update process, the customer fails or refuses to provide vital information requested by the Bank.
3. If a court order by the local authorities has been issued against a customer, resulting in an unacceptably increased ML/TF risk associated with the customer.
4. If the customer's activities change, and the new activities fall within the Bank's non-accepted types of business.
5. If a customer was convicted for any serious predicate offence.

6. If a customer has attempted to deceive the Bank.
7. If the customer or, in the case of a legal entity, any of its directors, shareholders, beneficial owners, or signatories is added on sanctions lists issued by the EU, UN or OFAC, then, existing business relationships should be treated according to the instructions provided by the international authority imposing the sanctions. Usually, the assets of these persons are frozen, and the customer is reported to the appropriate local and/or international authorities via the Compliance Division. Affected entities must be flagged as Not Accepted Customers.

If the Bank has reasonable grounds to believe that the customer is involved in money laundering or terrorism financing activities, then all necessary measures should be considered, including the termination of the business relationship, subject to the directions of the local FIU.

4.4 Deviation from the Customer Acceptance Policy

In the event there is a request for a deviation/override of any terms of the Customer Acceptance Policy which does not violate any legal or regulatory framework, the underlined reasons must be fully justified. The request is submitted by the responsible Unit to the CEO of Bank of Cyprus for approval, after obtaining FCSCD's comments and confirmation by the Director of the Compliance Division. The Audit Committee will be also notified for any such exceptionally approvals, on a quarterly basis.

4.5 Approval and Annual Review

The policy is approved by the Board of Directors through the Audit Committee.

The policy is reviewed at least annually by Compliance and any amendments are submitted to the Audit Committee for approval.

5. CAPITAL ADEQUACY AND LIQUIDITY OF THE BANK

Capital requirements emanating from ML/TF risks are calculated under the ICAAP exercise within the context of the calculation of Pillar II capital set aside for operational losses. In this respect, scenarios are drafted relating to either Money Laundering, Terrorist Financing or Sanctions Risk and historical data as well as existing mitigating measures are considered to calculate the expected loss in case the scenario crystalizes. Operational losses could be in the form of penalties, loss of business, legal/operational expenses or any other costs relevant to each scenario.

The provisions set out in this policy should be considered when selecting and drafting scenarios for the purposes of calculating capital requirements emanating from ML/TF risks.

In case operational losses are expected to influence cash flows, their impact on the liquidity stress tests and on the different liquidity matrices will be evaluated by Risk Strategy.

Appendix 1 - Examples of Entities (Individuals or Legal Entities), Accounts, or Transactions Not Accepted by BOC and related entities

Important Notes:

1. BOC has decided that the risk associated with certain groups of customers is unacceptably high and has, therefore, decided not to establish a business relationship with them. In the case of vendors, the same principles apply. Apart from the requirements of the Law and the Directive, the Bank, as part of its Risk Appetite Assessment, has included in this category other types of customers based on the ML / TF risk associated with them.
2. The categorization of a customer as Not Accepted is based on the overall score assigned by the automated scorecard, considering all risk parameters. To that effect, the below list is not an exhaustive list of Not Accepted customer types.
3. For Countries Categorization, please refer to Appendix 3.
4. The automated scorecard incorporates parameters / examples as described below which can be implemented systemically. To that effect, some of the below parameters / examples, which cannot be implemented systemically, should also be considered in the overall risk assessment of clients.

- Receipt of funds from Crowdfunding Services
- Transactions related to cultural artefacts and other items of archaeological, historical, cultural and religious importance, or of rare scientific values.

Appendix 3 – Country Risk Categorization

The Geography Risk Factors used by the scorecard to determine the risk level of prospect and current customers, derive from the Country Risk Categorization Methodology, which assesses the ML/TF risk emanating from each country and geographic area.

The ML/TF risk of each country is based on several indexes and standards available, as well as the opinion of the AMLCO. Examples of such indexes and standards include the Basel AML Index Report, the Corruption Perception Index, FATF/Moneyval Public Statements, EU List of High-Risk Countries, EU/OECD List of Non-Cooperative Jurisdiction for Tax Purposes, Sanctions imposed by OFAC/EU/UN.

The country risk categorization is utilized for the purposes of the score card to assign scores for geography risk factors. Individuals are scored based on their Country of Residence and their Country of ID / Passport. Legal entities are scored based on the Country of Registration, Country of Economic Activity, as well as the Country of Residence and ID/Passport Country of their Directors, Signatories, Shareholders (=>25%) and Beneficial Owners (=>25%). Scores are also assigned based on the country of origin / destination of wire transfers.

Countries fall within the following ML/TF categories:

- Category A: Countries included in Appendix 3 of the Sanctions Policy and Dissolved Jurisdictions/Countries
- Category A1: Countries included in Appendix 3 of the Sanctions Policy and Countries associated with severe negative media relating to ML/TF/Evasion of Sanctions
- Category A2: Countries included in Appendix 2 of the Sanctions Policy
- Category B: Countries with High Risk profile/characteristics including, among others, countries with significant deficiencies as per FATF, and countries included in the EU/Moneyval list of high-risk countries.
- Category C: Countries near war zones and/or near jurisdictions with connections with known terrorist organisations or associated with Significant Negative Media regarding ML/TF Deficiencies
- Category D: Countries as per Compliance Division' Country Methodology, which takes into consideration various Indexes (e.g. Basel, CPI, FSI)
- Category E: Moderate Risk Countries
- Category F: Countries which entail the lowest ML/TF risks, including, among others, EEA countries.
